NO MORE MONEY FOR CREEKS.

The engineers of the war department have reconstended the abandanment of the improvement of the Big Sandy river, stating in their report that since the railroads had been constructed on both sides of the river it was put to little use. So far about two nallions of dollars have been spent on the improvement, which the report says was wasted for all the good it had done. How inistance is this report for do we not know that this government graft has furnished campaign thunder for many andidates for thirty yearand it was worked so smoothly that it was positively worth a manlife to enter an objection to it in the presence of its champions. Pity that all this money that has been practically wasted had not been put in word roads in that mountainous section so that the people would have received some substantial benefits for its expenditure. Senator Burron, of this state, has been right all along in opposing the spending of money on the improvement of the animportant streams throughout the country in advance of the Jacger rivers. The people are opening their eyes about this graft that continues from congress to congress to make a few votes for an up the creek congressman.
